

Aldo's Cavity Adventure

Aldo was a very friendly, happy little goat,
during hot summer days,
he wore a winter coat.

One day for breakfast,
he ate a huge snake,
then all of a sudden,
he got a tooth ache.

So he tried to cure it, with a little bit of grass, but that only gave him,
way too much gas.

Maybe all he needed,
was a much needed nap,
but he couldn't fall asleep, he still felt the zap.

He needed some help,
so he called his friend Mo,
a special sloth dentist, who was a bit slow.

Mo hung from a tree,
in a fight against gravity, he took a quick look,
and found a goat cavity.

Even the sloth,
was quick with a cure,
"Would you like another snake?"
Aldo said - "Sure!"
